Firm receives financial-software deal

Avalon Park-based Data Transfer Solutions LLC has received a contract to provide financial-analysis software for regional transportation planning in metropolitan Houston, the company said this week. The east Orange County company landed the deal as part of a team led by Dye Management Group Inc., prime contractor on the 2040 Regional Transportation Plan for the Houston-Galveston Area Council. The value of the contract was not disclosed. Data Transfer offers Web services, database applications, and multimedia production for government agencies' geographic information systems, known as GIS. The company has 11 offices in six states.
